Do you want to serve the Lord?
Do you want to be able to help people in a practical way?
Do you want to learn the benefits of natural medicine?
Do you want to be a medical missionary?

If so, then we are excited to offer a medical missionary training school for all those who have a decided interest in learning more about the health work.

Study By Distant Education

Most of your study time will involve distance education from the luxury of your own home so it can be done while you still continue working in your secular employment.

What will I learn?

Each student will be trained in the core areas of health including nutrition, anatomy and physiology and herbal medicine. In conjunction with an external Australian Natural Medicine College the students will be awarded accredited certificates by the external college in each module at the completion of their course work and final exams. Students will also be taught in remedial massage, hydrotherapy, detoxification, health evangelism, raw food preparation and more . . .

Practical Training

You will only be required to attend 4 sets of 5 day practical training and exam sessions held every 4 months at Elim heights camp ground in NSW. For those travelling interstate, and for those with secular work commitments, this allows you to arrive on the Sunday before a training session begins and leave on the Sunday after it finishes, incurring only 1 week off from work per training session. There will be 2 weeks training required in 2012 and 2 weeks required in 2013.

Enrolment Requirements

- You must be 18 years old or older with no upper age limit (students between 16 and 18 years old may attend if the school agrees and they are given parental authorization in writing.)
- You must have completed a one day senior first aid course
- You must be fluent in speaking and writing English, some basic computer skills and internet access would also be advantageous.

Cost

The total cost including modules, texts, tutition, training seminars, food and accomodation is $3998.

Easy Payment Plan
